

MAJOR SCOTT JOHNSON

Scott Johnson began his law enforcement career in 1974. He started out working patrol until July of 1984 when he was promoted to Sergeant. While serving as a Sergeant, Johnson was the Records Division Supervisor until 1986 and began working in Internal Affairs. During this time, he completed his Criminal Justice Degree from Eastern Washington University. In 1988 Johnson was promoted to Lieutenant where he continued working with Internal Affairs until 1988 as well as served as the SWAT Team Commander until 2001. In 1990, Major Johnson graduated from the FBI National Academy in Quantico, Virginia. In 2001, after Johnson was promoted to Captain, he served as the Patrol Division Commander until 2007 when he was promoted to Major. Major Johnson is currently the Commander of the Operations Bureau at the Spokane Police Department. His duties include supervising the patrol division and specialty team units.

